Notes from the Director

"As a general rule, the most successful man in life is the man who has the best information."

Benjamin Disraeli, statesman

Although this quote is dated by not addressing women, the point is well taken by emphasizing the importance of accurate information. As the Board and staff begin to develop a long-range plan for our library, we want to solicit invaluable data from those of you who use the library, and information from those who do not.

We will start by posting a survey on our web site during February that you can fill out electronically and submit. The same survey will also be available in the library.

We are surveying our patrons to see what resources you use, what programs you have attended and what you would like to see in the future. And, finally at a later date, we will be surveying a sample of our community of users and non-users for input.

Many of you participated in our brief outreach survey during Heritage Fest and this information will also be considered in our future planning.

Our children's and adult programs at the Public Safety Center on the west side have been well attended and we will continue to provide this programming. The two book drops on the west side are a popular convenience for our patrons.

Do not forget to vote in the April 17, 2007 election for the four Library Board of Trustees vacancies. It is because of our dedicated Board of Trustees and staff that we are able to provide excellent resources and programs for our community.

May I also invite you to email me with any information you would like to share that can be used in the long-range plan, in addition to the online survey or paper survey in the library? E-mail your feedback to me at dundeeref@nsls.info.

And please stop in to visit us during National Library Week, April 15-21, 2007, when we will be hosting special events at the library!

Library Adds Toy Collection

Brightly colored wooden toys and puzzles may now be checked out for home use by children. Begun at the suggestion of Eva Tipps, library board treasurer, the collection is geared toward preschoolers and contains 24 toys, most of which have multiple pieces.

Children develop motor skills at a very young age by playing with toys. Toys or things that they can touch and manipulate help with their hand-eye coordination, while puzzles help with their cognitive development.

Two musical instruments - a xylophone and a drum - are included to help a child develop an ear for music and rhythm. There are also boxed sets of dinosaurs and a little city. A catalog of the toys is available in the Children's Department.

Toys may be checked out for four weeks. For information, call 847-428-3661, ext. 310.

What's New —

If you enjoy audiobooks, the Dundee Township Public Library has just added the latest high-tech gadget to enhance your listening pleasure.

Called a PlayAway, this tiny, electronic device fits in the palm of your hand and is a pre-loaded, complete and self-playing audiobook. It comes with one AAA battery and a lanyard that can be worn around the neck for ease of portability. Patrons must supply their own earphones.

"They're great — all you have to do is press the play button to listen. You don't have to deal with multiple cassette tapes or CDs," said Kathy Shrum, head of Media Services.

Measuring approximately 3 inches by 2 inches and about a quarter inch thick, PlayAway audiobooks deliver top-quality digital sound.

Each unit contains an entire reading of one book and comes wrapped in a picture of the book jacket. Check with Media Services for a selection of titles.
