Notes from the Director

Dollars and Sense:

Why Your Library Is a Good Investment

Librarians have long observed that the demand for library services soars when the economy declines.

It's not just books that the belt-tightening public wants more of in tough times, but programs and Internet access as well.

That's been the case here at the Dundee Township Public Library during the past year as our patron use statistics continue to increase.

When times are good, people do not mind one-click shopping on Amazon but when times get tighter it makes good sense to come to your local library for materials.

Libraries provide a wealth of information and services to their communities. Taxpayers rightfully want to understand what benefits they receive from their tax dollars.

A variety of approaches has been used in the United States and internationally to study the benefits that public libraries bring to those that fund or support them. One such effort is called the return on investment or ROI.

The more you use your library, the greater the return on your investment. In addition to professional reference librarians, we provide such resources as books, magazines, DVDs, CDs, and services such as Internet access, use of expensive databases, and educational and cultural programs for the community.

Check out how much money you are saving by using your public library. Go to <http://www.nsls.info/roi/?m=patron> and determine how much you would spend in out-of-pocket expenses for materials and services per library visit.

For example, if you checked out one book ($25), one DVD ($15.00) and three children's books (3x$8.00=$24) and then stayed for an adult program ($37.50) you would have saved $101.50 in just one visit to your local library and this is just for one person!

Your library effectively stretches tax dollars to meet community needs while providing you with value and service. Visit us soon and "cash in" on your investment.

Elisa F. Topper, Library Director

SOMEONE YOU SHOULD KNOW:

Marge Skold, Ph.D., Library Trustee

Trustee Marge Skold, Ph.D., a West Dundee resident, was elected to the Dundee Township Public Library District Board in 2007.

Currently the Vice President of Academic Affairs for Harper College in Palatine, she brings a wealth of life experience and management skills to her volunteer position as trustee.

Like her current favorite mystery author, Joanne Fluke, Marge grew up in a small town in rural Minnesota where the winters were harsh and the neighbors were friendly.

The oldest of six children, Marge and her family had traveled from coast to coast many times as her father was moved because of his career.

By her count, Marge studied or taught in 26 schools before she finished her doctorate in 1992 at the University of Iowa.

These experiences served her well. "I've learned a lot about meeting new people," she remarked. "You want to listen first, respect their space, and let them take time to get to know you."

In 1972, Marge and her husband, a public librarian, settled in Waterloo, Iowa, where they raised a family.

Marge Skold is equally at home hosting visiting dignitaries from China, studying the art and traditions of Native American tribes, creating fiber art or whipping up cookies in her kitchen from recipes she finds in Joanne Fluke's mystery novels.

Library Trustee Marge Skold, Ph.D. (continued)

Her life took on a new direction in 1992. Then working as an administrator at Hawkeye Community College, she played a key role in local economic development initiatives and was invited to visit China by a delegation that toured Waterloo's local John Deere plant.

Three months later, she was a guest of the delegation's leader in Liuzhou, China, an experience that whetted her appetite for international travel. Her experiences in foreign countries have added much to her understanding of other cultures, she notes.

Still blessed with an adventurous spirit, the self-described gypsy loves to road trip with a good friend, a good book and many good sites.

As a trustee, Marge brings more than 30 years of experience in education and leadership to the library Board. "I've always thought a public library could be described by the title of one of Hemingway's short stories as 'a clean well-lighted place' where everyone is welcome," she said. "That is what a library should be – friendly, open to all, with something for everyone – from toys to tax forms," she said.

The fact that libraries can absorb new technologies such as laptops, wifi, pdas, dvds and audio books continues to position them as repositories of knowledge and culture, she observes.

"People will always want what is in books – they just want to get it in a different format, like audio books," she said.

While she's always encouraged diversity in the workplace, the Minnesota native sees the library as a perfect place that can embrace a global society "where everyone learns to work and live together, enriching each other's lives."

Meet Marge and other trustees at the Board meetings which are held at 7 p.m. on the second Monday of each month in the library's lower level meeting room. Meetings are open to the public.
